VILLAGE BELLE.

Successfully and Pleasantly Presented by Local Talent.

Given Under the Direction of W. J. Tobin as Odd Fellows Benefit.

The rendition of the play "The Village Belle," by a cast of local talent, with one or two exceptions, was the attraction at the Opera House Friday night. It was presented under the auspices of the Odd Fellows Lodge, being directed personally by Mr. W. J. Tobin, who spent a week or more in training the young people in the play.

The cast of characters was as follows:

Uncle Tad Morgan, An Old Farmer Wm. J. Tobin
Clarence Howard, Nina's Lover Ed Schmidt
Jim Bates, alias Frank Dean, A Gambler Chas. Kincannon
Jason Peaslee, a Neighbor W. W. Walker
Sam Barnes, a Detective W. B. Guthrie
Walter Marsh, Slow but Sure A. H. Adwell
Tip, The Bell Boy Master Rupert
Welsh, a Patrolman Officer McCord
Nian Morgan, The Village Belle Hazel Roper
Lydia Morgan, Tad's Sister Maggie Mullen
Phyllis Bates, a Victim of Circumstances Minnie Lee

The play was a comedy in three acts and the scenes were laid on a farm and in a New York hotel. The interest was sustained from start to finish, with a variety of laughable specialties, dramatic climaxes and occasionally a touch of thrilling tragedy. The crowd was large and applause was generous.

Mr. Tobin assumed the role of a down east farmer and kept the audience in a constant good humor, in some laughable specialties, introducing the song "Uncle Josh, from Oshkosh." He was cleverly assisted by Misses Roper and Lee. Miss Roper, the pretty daughter of the Chief of Police, showed histrionic talent in the part of "Nina" that surprised even her friends, as it was her first appearance as an amateur. She met the requirements of a very versatile and difficult character in a thoroughly pleasing manner.

Miss Minnie Lee as "Phyllis" and Miss Maggie Mullen as "Lydia," an unmarried lady of uncertain age, were very successful in their respective characterizations. Mr. Schmitt as the lover and Mr. Kincannon as the villain sustained their parts like professionals. Mr. Adwell and Mr. Walker were the comedians and Mr. Guthrie made an excellent detective and Mr. McCord as the policeman knew how "one of the finest" should act on the stage. Mr. Tobin's little boy was an unusually smart bell boy.

The play as a whole was well received and the young people assisting in the performance all deserve praise. The Lodge realized a nice sum from the play.

TOBACCO

You are invited to visit my sales. Sales Every Tuesday and Friday.

LOOSE - SALES!

Sales on the Loose Floor last week were all that could be desired in the way of satisfactory prices. The season is now well advanced and you can bring your tobacco along with the full assurance that you will get full market prices. The "old reliable Flat Lick" comes to the front this week with lugs sold at $6.30 and $6.40. When you think that the cost of selling these lugs was about 25c per 100 you will see how nice it is to sell on the Loose Floor and save the expense of pricing and loss in weights. If you have a crop of tobacco and want to realize the value of it and want your money now, bring it to me and I will do my best to please you.
